

Welcome Back!

Whose Is It?

English Básico A1 · Beginner 1

- Tuesday, July 28, 2026 · Day 10
- Possession: Apostrophe'S, Have, Whose, Contractions

Warm-Up!

Let's remember yesterday

1

Make it negative: She works on Sundays.

2

Make it a question: They live in Panama.

3

What do you do? (Answer with your own job!)

Today's Agenda

Possession — Whose Is It?

01 Possession: Apostrophe 'S

02 Have for Possession

03 Whose Questions

04 WH Contractions

05 Two Truths and a Lie!

Everything today connects to one idea: who owns what.

SECTION 1

Possession: Apostrophe 'S

Showing who owns what — in one letter and a mark.

Apostrophe 'S: The Rule

Definition

We add 's to a noun to show who owns something — mainly for people and animals.

Singular noun

+ 's

Maria's book · the dog's tail

Plural noun ending in -s

+ ' only

the girls' room · my parents' car

Irregular plural (no -s)

+ 's

the children's toys · the men's room

Singular noun ending in -s

+ 's (still!)

James's car · my boss's office

💡 With groups/institutions (not people), natural speech often prefers "of/in" instead of 's: "the students in the class" sounds more natural than "the class's students" — both are correct, but 's is more common with people and animals.

Examples: Apostrophe 'S in Action

Different scenarios where you'll use it:

Family

This is my sister's room. My parents' house is big.

Friends

Carlos's phone is new. My friends' party is Saturday.

Work

My boss's office is upstairs. The manager's name is Ana.

Animals

The cat's food is in the kitchen. The dogs' toys are here.

Places/Time

Panama's capital is Panama City. Today's class is long!

SECTION 2

Have for Possession

The other way to say what belongs to you.

Have for Possession

Two ways to say the same thing:

Maria's car = Maria has a car

Subject	Affirmative	Negative
I / You / We / They	have	don't have
He / She / It	has	doesn't have

 Remember from yesterday: after "doesn't," the verb always goes back to its base form — "doesn't have," never "doesn't has."

Examples: Have for Possession

Affirmative and negative, in different situations:

Family

I have two sisters. My brother doesn't have a car.

Objects

She has a new phone. We don't have a TV in the kitchen.

Pets

They have a dog and a cat. My friend doesn't have any pets.

Work/School

He has a laptop for work. I don't have a car; I have a bike.

Same idea, apostrophe 's

"She has a car" = "It's her car" — two ways, same meaning.

SECTION 3

Whose Questions

Asking who something belongs to.

Whose Questions

Definition

"Whose" is the WH-word for possession — it asks who owns something. Formula: Whose + noun + is/are + this/that/it?

Whose book is this?

It's Maria's.

Whose car is that?

It's my dad's.

Whose keys are these?

They're mine.

⚠ Don't confuse: "Whose" (possession) and "Who's" (who is / who has) sound EXACTLY the same — /hu:z/ — but mean different things!

Examples: Whose Questions

Asking and answering about ownership:

Everyday objects

Whose phone is this? — It's my sister's.

Clothing

Whose jacket is that? — It's Carlos's.

Plural things

Whose shoes are these? — They're the kids'.

At work/school

Whose desk is this? — It's the new teacher's.

Informal answer

Whose bag is it? — Mine! / It's mine.

SECTION 4

WH Contractions

What's, where's, who's, how's, when's.

WH Contractions

WH-word + is → one contracted word.

What's

What is

What's your name?

Where's

Where is

Where's the bathroom?

Who's

Who is

Who's your teacher?

How's

How is

How's your family?

When's

When is

When's your birthday?

💡 These contractions can also mean "has" — "What's happened?" (What HAS happened?), "Who's got my pen?" (Who HAS got my pen?). This form is less common in everyday basic conversation — you don't need to produce it yet, just recognize it if you hear it.

⚠️ "Which" and "why" don't contract with "is" — always "which is" and "why is," written out fully.

Examples: WH Contractions

How they sound in real conversation:

Meeting someone

What's your name? Where's your family from?

Small talk

How's it going? How's your day?

Asking about people

Who's that? Who's your best friend?

Making plans

When's your birthday? When's the party?

Whose vs. Who's

Who's coming? (who is) — Whose coat is this? (possession)

Practice: Possession Mix

Complete each sentence — apostrophe 's, have, whose, or a contraction:

1. This is _____ (Maria) car.

2. I _____ two brothers. (have)

3. _____ book is this? (whose)

4. _____ your name? (contraction)

5. These are the _____ (children) toys.

6. He _____ (doesn't/don't) have a car.

7. _____ your teacher? (contraction)

8. This is my _____ (boss) office.

9. _____ shoes are these? (whose)

10. We _____ (have) a big family.

Practice: Answers ✓

1. This is Maria's car.

2. I have two brothers.

3. Whose book is this?

4. What's your name?

5. These are the children's toys.

6. He doesn't have a car.

7. Who's your teacher?

8. This is my boss's office.

9. Whose shoes are these?

10. We have a big family.

Two Truths and a Lie!

From yesterday — now with possession too!

- 1 Take 2-3 minutes to THINK (don't write): 3 sentences about YOURSELF — 2 true, 1 false. Use Present Simple and/or possession.
- 2 Random picker chooses a speaker. They share their 3 sentences out loud.
- 3 Random picker chooses 3-4 students — each asks ONE question (Yes/No or WH) to the speaker.
- 4 The class votes in the chat — then the speaker reveals the truth!

Why only 3-4 questions? With 50 students, open questions get chaotic — a fixed number keeps it fair and on time.

Example: "I have two brothers. I don't have a car. My best friend's name is Ana." → "Do you have a car?" "Whose name is Ana?"

Great job today!

Today we mastered possession: apostrophe's, have, whose, and contractions.

No homework, no Kahoot today.

Next class:

Unit 3: Food and Drink (Count/Non-Count Nouns)

Our first official Edusoft unit!