Today's Agenda

Unit 4 Begins: What Day Is It?

01 Quick Review: Some/Any, How Much/Many, Want vs. Would Like

02 Days of the Week + Pronunciation

03 Prepositions of Time: IN / AT / ON

04 Prices: Quick Refresh + It's vs. They're

05 Practice: 2 exercises from the platform

Platform reminder: Unit 4 is due Saturday.

SECTION 1

Quick Review

Some/Any, How Much/Many, Want vs. Would Like.

Quick Review Before We Start

How Much or How Many?

1. ____ coffee do you drink?
2. ____ eggs do you need?
3. ____ is the sandwich?

Some or Any?

4. There isn't ____ bread.
5. I'd like ____ coffee, please.
6. Do you have ____ eggs?

Which is correct – "I want some coffee" or "I'd like some coffee"?

Quick Review: Answers

How Much or How Many?

1. ___ coffee do you drink?
2. ___ eggs do you need?
3. ___ is the sandwich?

Some or Any?

4. There isn't ___ bread.
5. I'd like ___ coffee, please.
6. Do you have ___ eggs?

Which is correct — "I want some coffee" or "I'd like some coffee"?

Both! WANT is direct and informal — fine with friends. WOULD LIKE / I'D LIKE is polite and formal — use it in stores, restaurants, and with strangers.

1. How much

2. How many

3. How much

4. any

5. some

6. any

SECTION 2

Days of the Week

Always capitalized — just like names.

Days of the Week

Monday

Tuesday

Wednesday

Thursday

Friday

Saturday

Sunday

Rule: ALWAYS Capitalize

Days of the week are always capitalized in English — even in the middle of a sentence. "I work on monday" (wrong) -> "I work on Monday" (correct)

This is different from Spanish!

In Spanish, days of the week are lowercase — "lunes," "martes." In English, they're always capital letters, just like a person's name.

It's + ON for Days

IT IS / IT'S — to say what day today is

"What day is it today?" — "It's Monday." "Is it Friday?" — "Yes, it is. / No, it isn't."

Note: "Today is Monday" is also correct — but the natural spoken answer is "IT'S Monday."

ON — the preposition for days of the week

- "When is the store closed?" — "It's closed ON Sunday."
- "When do you work?" — "I work ON Monday and Tuesday."
- "Is it open ON Saturday?" — "Yes, it's open ON Saturday."

Rule: for days of the week, always ON — ON Monday, ON Friday, ON the weekend. Never IN, never AT.

Quick Chat Drill

1. What day is it today?

2. When do you study English?

3. Is the supermarket open on Sunday? (your own experience)

4. What day is your favorite day? (answer in English!)

SECTION 3

Prepositions of Time

IN / AT / ON — same words, different job than last time!

Prepositions of Time: IN / AT / ON

These are the SAME 3 words you learned for places (Day 7) — but the rules are completely different now that we're talking about TIME.

IN

Months, years, seasons, parts of the day

- in August
- in 2026
- in the summer
- in the morning

ON

Days of the week, specific dates

- on Monday
- on Friday
- on August 5th
- on the weekend

AT

Specific clock times, noon/night/midnight

- at 7:00
- at noon
- at night
- at midnight

Examples: IN / AT / ON Together

My birthday is IN August.

The store opens AT 9:00 ON Monday.

We have class IN the evening, ON weekdays.

The shop closes AT midnight ON Saturdays.

School starts IN September.

SECTION 4

Prices: Quick Refresh

Extending what you already know to plural items.

Prices: Quick Refresh + It's vs. They're

Quick refresh: you already know how to say a price — "It's ten fifty" or "It's ten dollars and fifty cents." Today we add ONE new piece.

IT IS / IT'S — one thing

"How much is this dog food?"

It's twelve dollars.

Singular item -> IT IS / IT'S — same logic as "to be": one thing, IS.

THEY ARE / THEY'RE — more than one

"How much are these shoes?"

They're five euros.

Plural items -> THEY ARE / THEY'RE — same logic: more than one thing, ARE.

Always be polite when asking about prices — use "please" and "thank you."

Examples: It's vs. They're

How much is the book?

-> It's ten dollars.

How much are the pens?

-> They're two dollars.

How much is this shirt?

-> It's fifteen fifty.

How much are these apples?

-> They're one dollar.

SECTION 5

Practice

Two exercises from the platform.

Practice: Fill in the Blank

Choose the correct word for each blank:

1. Is the bookstore open (in, on, it) Sunday?

2. Today (in, it, is) Monday.

3. The pet store is closed (in, it, on) Friday.

4. What day is (it's, on, it) today?

5. (On, In, It) Tuesday, the furniture store is open late.

Fill in the Blank: Answers

1. on

2. is

3. on

4. it

5. On

Practice: At the Bookstore

Complete the conversation with a word from the box:

Word box: expensive · twenty · much · great · Australia · Would · table

Salesperson

Good morning. _____ you like some help?

Customer

Do you have any books on _____?

Salesperson

Yes. On that _____ over there.

Customer

Thanks. And how _____ is this book on Canada?

Salesperson

It's _____ dollars.

Customer

That's very _____!

Salesperson

Yes. It is expensive. But it's a _____ book.

At the Bookstore: Answers

1. Would you like some help?

2. Do you have any books on Australia?

3. Yes. On that table over there.

4. And how much is this book on Canada?

5. It's twenty dollars.

6. That's very expensive!

7. But it's a great book.

Great job today!

Days of the week, prepositions of time, and prices for more than one item — a lot connected to what you already knew!

No homework, no Kahoot today.
